Director's Note:

Third Year Project is an exciting opportunity for the Theatre Faculty to push the limits of our students. It's a chance for us to challenge them by selecting roles that will put their individual skills to the test, based on what we've seen them do in their past years at LACHSA.

This class has a particular reputation for explosive energy and strong opinions. They are charged, hungry and precocious. Over the years, they've learned to channel their immense energy into their work and have made huge strides forward as young artists. As a result, they haven't let the challenge of creating theatre on Zoom get in their way, and we're proud for you to see their progress.

We threw them in the deep end. Watch them swim.
